Good and Bad Advice.

"An incorporated borough is no either an incorporated city or an in-Glen Ridge and the township of Bromfield into one city."-H. E. RICHARDS, letter to people of Bloomfield, July 13, 1895.

In view of the decision just rendered in the Supreme Court on the status of Glen Ridge, the following, from THE RECORD of July 19, 1895, may be re-published with possible good effect at this juncture:

"When will Mr. G. L. Stout and his tacle of themselves, and incidentally

All that they have promised has proven a myth-a possible everything-but the weather permits. a practical nothing.

in this third rate city movement, that in the slightest degree applies to, or affects the Borough of Glen Ridge.

And these men know it. But still they persist in "pulling the leg." so to speak, of the tax-payers, and trying to convince them that they "now" have a good thing.

It is plainly manifest, that the contest has now reached a point where it is carried on merely out of a feeling of bitter vituperation and annoyance to the gentlemen forming the Borough government, and as a salve to the smarting chagrin felt by a few Bloomfield leaders, in their peevish mortification of power incandescent lights which cost their lowered self-importance. Why $20 per light per year. / not be men and admit that they are defeated?" The editor of THE BLOOMFIELD REC-ORD was venomously attacked for thus simply stating the true situation then, and voicing the wisdom and good sense of the people, yet they were hypnotized into the fake city election. Bloomfield should now lose no time in repudiating the leadership of those who have so widely advertised their efficiency to accomplish nothing, except it be to injure the township and squander the money of the taxpayers. Let us have peace.

Legislative Notes.

Tuesday, Governor Griggs sent to the Senate a batch of nominations, which practically settled the fate of all Essex County office: seekers.

Taxation at a salary of $2,000 a year, and Stephen J. Meeker, who served on the World's Fair Commission, is made a member of the State Board of Assessors, to succeed his personal friend, Colonel A. R. Kuser.

troduced a bill in the Legislature on Tuesday, which grants the right to the Erie Railroad Company to lease the New York and Green wood Lake Railway.

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature which imposes a penalty of $50 for each offense, of persons throwing anything in roads that will injure bicycle tires.

Final Victory for Glen Ridge.

The Newark News of last evening published the following Special Dis-TRENTON, Feb. 20.-Two of the opinions handed down in the Supreme Court to-day relate to the interminable Bloomfield-Glen Ridge litigation. One of the decisions sets aside the proceedings for the incorporation of the township of Bloomfield into a city, so far as it attempts to include Glen Ridge in the city. The Court holds that Glen Ridge is a separate and distinct municipality, and not a part of Bloomfield Highland and Glen Ridge Avenues, be included in the proposed city.
